(d) if so, what are the reasons therefor and what steps Government are taking to implement satisfactorily the various welfare schemes for ex-servicemen?

THE MINISTER OF STATE IN THE DEPARTMENT OF DEFENCE PRODUCTION AND SUPPLIES IN THE MINISTRY OF DEFENCE (SHRI SHIVRAJ PATIL): (a) It is not a fact that there has been tardy implementation of various schemes for rehabilitation and welfare of ex-servicemen. A number of schemes like Preparing Ex-servicemen for Self-employment (PEXSEM), On the Job Training Scheme and Self employment for Ex-servicemen (SEMFEX) are being implemented for the rehabilitation and welfare of ex-servicemen.

PEXSEM.— This scheme has been launched since 1983-84. From 1-4-86, the expenditure is equally shared by the Centre and the States. The objective of the scheme is to impart vocational training to retired defence personnel (JCOs and ORs) to enable them to set up their self-employment units close to their homes. It is in operation in eighteen districts spread over ten States. As on date, 2977 retired defence personnel have been trained under the scheme. Nine hundred and tweny-seven of these trained personnel have set up their own self-employment ventures and one hundred and fifteen personnel have secured salaried employment. There have been some problems of prompt release of State share funds and sanction of loans by commercial Banks.

Apart from the PEXSEM scheme, there is a scheme to impart pre-release training to retiring defence personnel in various management courses and trades to enable them to get salaried employment and set up their own self-employment ventures.

On the Job Training Scheme:

The objective of "On the Job Training Scheme" is to train non-technical personnel of all the three Services. They are given intensive technical training for 9 months in 10 basic trades; namely, Fitter, Turner, Machinist, Welder, Mech (MV), line-Man, Carpenter, Moulder, Plumber and Book-Binder. Training is imparted by Public Sector Undertakings and Ordnance Factories located through-
